All of those present belong to a club which provides that each place some gift into a box for the next prospective bride and last evening Miss Parker was presented the gift box which contained many beautiful pieces.

Barre readers were pleased to see in yesterday's Boston Post an article written by Dr. H. H. Reid of Barre relating to the recent endurance test for the purpose of picking out the best breed for cavalry horses. The doctor took issue with a recent correspondent who claimed that the tests were cruelty to animals and the horses were not properly conditioned. Dr. Reid wished the impression corrected and went on to relate the training methods. He also made plain the fact that veterinarians accompany the horses on the trips and if the horses show signs of weakening they are removed from the contest. Dr. Reid evidently knew what he was talking about for he himself rode Halcyon, a horse owned by Colonel Spencer Borden of Fall River in the first endurance test held in 1912 and finished in first place.

Despite the fact that the Harvard-Dartmouth game is claiming quite a few fans three other games will draw their share over the week end. The schedule for Saturday shows Norwich and Middlebury still anxious for their battle which will take place on Sabine field in Northfield. Spaulding will also line up against a formidable rival to-morrow afternoon when she takes the big Lyndon line for gains. The contest should be interesting and well worth seeing. Sunday fans will see a game that will rival the average college game when the Barre Legion post, which showed its mettle against Pittsford last Sunday, lines up against a crack aggregation of college men from Burlington, who will play under the cognomen of the Burlington Athletic club. The Legion boys make no admission charge to their games but donations to help pay off the guarantee may be made outside the grounds during the day.

WATERBURY

The Republican rally at Community hall Saturday evening is for the people of surrounding towns, as well as Waterbury. Senator W. P. Dillingham is to be the speaker.

WEBSTERVILLE

Mrs. Joseph Rock left yesterday for Windsor, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. James Cummings, before going to Springfield, Mass., where her husband has employment.

The condition of Mrs. Amedy remains serious, yet hope has not been given up. May we all see her cheery countenance and hear her friendly greeting again.

An automobile party consisting of N. LoSasso and daughter, Madeline, Mrs. R. Melano, Mary and Angelina, and Frank LoSasso, visited in Burlington and Winooski on Sunday.

They called on Mary LoSasso, a nurse-in-training at the Fanny Allen hospital. Mary enjoys her work very much and we all wish her success.

It is agreed that the Newbury scribe was right when he said that all town news was interesting to someone, often far-away subscribers more than local people; therefore, a great amount of criticism could be saved if all would bear that truth in mind.

A familiar animal figure, known as "peter," faithful horse of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Geake, will be missed from our streets. The equine had been in the family for a period of 25 years, having been purchased as a two-year-old colt. After completing a long life of willing and faithful service, the great pet left for horseland on Thursday.

Just received large shipment of pianos. Can be seen at our store. Littlefield Piano Co., formerly Bailey's Music Rooms, Barre—adv.
